

Broadleaf Weeds

Wild Mustard

Common: Wild Mustard

Scientific: Brassica kaber

Affected Crops: Corn, cotton, soybeans.

Identification: The seedling has rounded cotyledons and the leaves are opposite and hairy. The plant has conspicuous clusters of yellow flowers at branch terminals. Its pod is cylindrical on a long stalk.

Geographical Distribution: Widespread throughout the United States in waste areas and cultivated fields.

Always refer to product labels for specific use instructions.